Aspen's CEO, Sean Ryan, had this to say about Mike's move to Aspen: "We are delighted to welcome Mike to the team. Aspen's Property Servicing Platform, which help Servicers manage the property asset over the life of the loan and particularly defaulted properties, complement loan servicing platforms. Loan servicing platforms are competent core technologies for servicing the loan but are constrained in providing property servicing oversight and management that is easy to use and quick to implement. That's where Aspen's Property Servicing Platform comes in. Mike's experience, knowledge and expertise helping mortgage servicers and their third-party service providers over the years, will help Aspen and our customers to provide the best solutions to manage the asset".
